POLICE DEPARTMENT.

REPORT FOR YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1911.

Police Department of The City of New York,
Office of the Commissioner.

January 11, 1912.

Hon. William J. Gaynor,
Mayor, City of New York.

Sir:

I have the honor to submit my report on the Police Department of the City of New York for the year 1911.

The present Police Commissioner assumed office on May 23, 1911.

The authorized strength of the force, which was not increased during the year 1911, on December 31st was: 19 Inspectors, 25 Surgeons, 97 Captains, 628 Lieutenants, 586 Sergeants, 8,589 Patrolmen, 194 Doormen, 70 Matrons. Total, 10,208.

Of these, 496 were detailed to the Detective Bureau, 504 to the regulation of traffic, and 83 to other city departments, which pay their salaries.

20,708 arrests were made for felonies, 103,876 arrests were made for misdemeanors, 10,293 for juvenile delinquency, and 18,891 summonses were issued. A total of 153,768.

Included in the above are 12,083 arrests for felony, 10,181 for misdemeanors, 2,824 for juvenile delinquency, or a total of 25,088, made by the Detective Bureau. Arrests by this Bureau were: In 1906, 9,302; in 1907, 11,416; in 1908, 17,538; in 1909, 16,596; in 1910, 15,666.

The arrests by the Detective Bureau for December numbered 2,440.

The number of arrests for felonies has increased, while the number of arrests for minor offences has decreased. Persons against whom there is no possibility of proving any crime are no longer arrested as "suspicious persons," and, of necessity, liberated the following day. The number of persons so arrested has heretofore reached over 11,000 in one year.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE

The corporation ordinances are being enforced with less friction, over 4,000 fewer arrests being made for offences against them during the past year than in the year before.

Political and other outside considerations tending to disrupt discipline and demoralize the force have been eliminated, and the discipline of the force has been materially improved.

Promotions and appointments have been made in the numerical order certified by the Municipal Civil Service Commission as a result of competitive examinations.

The effective patrol force has been increased by the abolition of 1,014 unnecessary details, as shown in the table attached hereto.

The elimination of these details not only saves the city approximately $1,400,000 annually for unnecessary work, but also removes one of the main incentives for political activity on the part of the uniformed members of the force, many of whom are naturally desirous of obtaining, if possible, work which does not involve the long hours and strenuous duty of the regular policeman.

In so far as consistent with the interests of the service men are allowed to serve in the boroughs in which they reside. They are permitted to transfer mutually on their own application.

Brutality in making arrests has ceased. The police have been taught to exercise the utmost care that the innocent may not be the victims of injustice.

The practice of allowing detectives to persecute persons who have served a sentence and who are endeavoring to lead an honest life has been ended.

The police are instructed in all cases of minor infractions of the law or ordinances, where the persons accused can be identified, to issue summonses instead of making arrests.

Photographs of persons arrested, but who have not been convicted, have been removed from the Gallery maintained for criminal identification.

UNIFORMED FORCE.

A three-platoon system of patrol duty was adopted June 12th. A law requiring future administrations to continue this system of patrol duty passed the Legislature of the State and became effective July 2, 1911.

The force in each precinct is divided into twelve squads. Three squads, or one-quarter of the force, perform patrol duty from 7 A. M. to 3 P. M.; three squads, or one-quarter of the force, perform patrol duty from 3 P. M. to 11 P. M.; six squads, or one-half of the force, perform patrol duty from 11 P. M. to 7 A. M. A Lieutenant or a Sergeant is being assigned to each squad and performs duty with it.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

This system gives twice the number of men on duty at night, when their services are more required than in the day time. The reserve is strongest in the day time, when large crowds are most liable to congregate.

The precincts are being divided into six territorial sections. During the night tour one squad is assigned to each section; during the day tours one squad is assigned to every two sections. The officer doing duty with the squad is assigned as Chief of Section, and held responsible for the proper performance of patrol duty by the men under his charge, and for the preservation of the peace within his section.

In Manhattan, and in certain sections of Brooklyn, a system of fixed posts has been established. One-half of the night patrol force is assigned to duty on fixed posts, about one thousand feet apart. The other half performs patrol duty in the regular manner. The men on fixed post and the men on patrol relieve each other every hour. In extremely cold weather fixed posts are relieved every half hour. The result of this system has been that a citizen can always find a policeman. Every portion of the territory covered is constantly under supervision. Crimes of violence at night and on the public highway have been almost entirely eliminated. The number of large fires occurring at night has been materially decreased, due to prompt alarm being given.

The number of mounted men in outlying districts has been increased. It is believed that mounted men afford the most efficient patrol system for suburban sections.

DETECTIVE BUREAU.

The Detective Bureau has been reorganized and placed on an administrative basis similar to that of the uniformed force.

The Bureau is in charge of an Inspector of Police, directly under the supervision of the Second Deputy Commissioner.

The detectives are assigned to precincts under the immediate charge of Chief Precinct Detectives. In each District there is a Chief District Detective, responsible for all criminal investigations within his District, and reporting directly to the head of the Detective Bureau.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE

The advantages of this method are: The men working within a given territory become acquainted with its people, and are in a position to more readily obtain necessary information than if they were covering the entire city; the men develop a special aptitude in detecting the class of crime most prevalent in the precincts to which they are assigned. In a city of large foreign population, residing more or less in certain sections, detectives of the race of the prevailing nationality may be assigned among their own people. Every man in the Bureau is under the immediate supervision of a superior, who is personally responsible for the character of work being performed. Responsibility for lack of efficiency is readily placed. If the work in a precinct or district does not show the desired results, the Chief is removed and replaced by another. The greater part of the day is not lost, as heretofore, by all of the detectives journeying to and from Headquarters and awaiting assignments. A complainant is given the necessary attention at the precinct station house, instead of being obliged to travel to Police Headquarters. When the detection of a criminal requires detectives of special nationality or familiar with the special class of crime, men so qualified are detailed to the precinct requiring their services. If the work requires more men than are assigned to a precinct, men are temporarily detailed from precincts where the work may not be so heavy. Men investigating a case go anywhere that the work requires.

In addition to the men assigned to precincts, the Bureau maintains a few men in various sections who live and associate with persons who may be suspected of criminal tendencies. These men do not make arrests or appear in court. Their identity is known only to the official to whom they render their confidential reports. Much valuable information, which has lead to important arrests, has been obtained in this manner.

The results of this system of criminal investigation are shown by the large increase in the number of persons apprehended and by the character of the work performed, as demonstrated by the attached synopsis of notable arrests.

BUREAU OF CRIMINAL IDENTIFICATION.

A Bureau of Criminal Identification has been established at Headquarters, under the supervision of a competent officer, taking charge of the "Rogues' Gallery," the Bertillon measurements, the finger-print system and the criminal records, heretofore operated without proper supervision.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

SCHOOL FOR DETECTIVES.

A School for Detectives has been inaugurated, the principal object of which is to teach detectives the latest methods of criminal identification, including the Bertillon Descriptive Portrait, by means of which, in a few words, a face may be described by a trained man with such accuracy as to enable another to identify the subject in a large crowd, although he had never seen him. This is accomplished by classifying faces by the type of nose—straight, concave or convex—and then subdividing these by classification of ears and of other features to a point where a class would contain but very few persons.

The value and classification of finger-prints are also taught in this school.

General instruction in the detection of crime is given to new men by the most experienced men in the Department.

Instruction is also given in the proper way to prepare and present a case in court.

TRAFFIC SQUAD.

On July 31st, owing to the passage of the three-platoon law by the Legislature, it became necessary to abandon the Traffic Squad as a separate organization and to handle the traffic regulation by the police in precincts.

On October 12th an amendment was passed exempting the Traffic Squad from the provisions of this bill. The Traffic Squad was immediately re-established on the original basis as an independent organization.

DEFLECTION OF TRAFFIC.

At the beginning of traffic regulation in this city it was necessary, due to the lack of appreciation of the necessity of this service by the general public, to deflect traffic, in order to properly regulate it. The necessity for such deflection no longer exists and has been done away with. Traffic is regulated as efficiently without deflection.

MOTORCYCLE SQUAD.

The Motorcycle Squad, under the Traffic Squad, has done excellent work, as will be seen by the reports attached hereto.

The number of men on bicycles has been decreased, due to their inability to pursue and apprehend violators of the motor vehicle law. This service is now performed by men on motorcycles.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE HARBOR SQUAD.

The Harbor Squad numbers: 1 Captain, 7 Lieutenants, 9 Sergeants, 36 Patrolmen, 2 Doormen, besides civilians employed as engineers, firemen, oilers, deck-hands, etc.

It is provided with one vessel of 235 tons, five launches, two dories and six boats.

These boats patrol about 340 miles of water front.

This service has done excellent work in preventing thefts by river pirates, rescuing drowning persons and in recovering bodies of the drowned.

CENTRAL OFFICE SQUAD.

Men attached to the Central Office are assigned to the various districts for work in plain clothes, which does not come within the province of the Detective Bureau, such as the suppression of mendicants.

A special squad has been organized for the purpose of suppressing rowdiness, especially in public conveyances during the summer months, returning from amusement resorts. This squad was organized July 1st, and has made 3,641 arrests, resulting in 3,158 convictions.

COURT SQUAD.

The Court Squad, consisting of sixty-four men, was abolished, and the work is now being done by the Detective Bureau.

HEADQUARTERS STAFF.

The number of policemen detailed to Headquarters and Brooklyn Headquarters has been reduced from 235 to 77. These men were detailed as clerks, and by the introduction of a proper system of accounting it was possible to reduce this force.

Of the 77 remaining, the greater portion should be replaced by civilian clerks.

TELEGRAPH BUREAU.

The number of men detailed to this Bureau has been reduced from 123 to 71.

The cost of operating this service per annum has been reduced from $185,050 to $108,300, a saving of $76,750. This has been done without any decrease in the efficiency of this Bureau.

The Department owns the wires connecting Headquarters with the various precincts and maintains a repair gang to keep them in order. It hires the instruments used on them from the Telephone Company. It also hires from the Telephone Company wires and instruments for the purpose of maintaining a street patrol box telephone service.

Great economy in operation of this branch of the service could be obtained by the city constructing and maintaining its own patrol box service.

SCHOOL FOR RECRUITS.

A School for Recruits is maintained at Headquarters, which instructs the men coming into the service in their duties as patrolmen, including such knowledge of the laws and ordinances as is required by policemen.

BOILER SQUAD.

The Boiler Squad, which has charge of the inspection of steam boilers, might properly be placed under the Fire Department, in connection with the Bureau of Fire Prevention. The law requires that policemen be detailed to this service. It is sometimes difficult to obtain policemen who have any real knowledge of boilers sufficient to enable them to perform an intelligent inspection.

The personnel of this Squad has recently been entirely changed.

DISCIPLINE.

Commanding officers have been directed to prefer charges against members of their command for minor infractions of the rules and regulations of the Department only when, in their opinion, such charges are necessary for the proper maintenance of discipline.

It had been customary in the past to prefer charges against men for violations of the rules and regulations when it was apparent that such violations were absolutely unavoidable. For example, a policeman on his way to the station house making an arrest of a burglar, which might cause him to be a few minutes late from roll-call, would have charges preferred against him for being late. This practice has been abandoned.

It had also been customary in the Department to judge the work performed by an officer by the number of charges preferred by him against other men. Their efficiency is now judged by the results which they obtain, the commanding officer who prefers the least number of charges often being the most efficient commander.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CHANGES IN DISTRICTS AND PRECINCTS.

During the past year a new Inspection District has been established, known as the Sixteenth Inspection District.

Precinct lines have been changed in the First and Third Inspection Districts, eliminating one Precinct in each of these Districts.

BUILDINGS AND LAND.

A new precinct station house has been completed at the corner of Delancey and Clinton streets, Manhattan. The completion of this house has enabled the Department to abandon the station houses at 105 Eldridge street and 178 Delancey street, both of which were owned by the city and have been turned back to the Sinking Fund, and also to give up the lease of a building occupied by a Bridge Precinct in Brooklyn.

Leased premises formerly occupied by the Traffic Squad in East Twenty-seventh street have been given up and the men quartered in the Twenty-third Precinct, in West Thirtieth street.

A farm used for training horses in Queens has been turned back to the city, due to the fact that it was unimproved and had no accommodations for horses and would have required the expenditure of a large sum of money to enable it to be utilized. In the opinion of the present administration it was not necessary or essential.

The land on West Thirtieth street formerly occupied by the Department with a station house has been turned back to the Sinking Fund.

Appropriations have been obtained in former administrations for, and construction is now about to begin on, three new station houses: one for the Eighth Precinct, at Beach and Varick streets, Manhattan; one for the 150th Precinct, on Poplar street, between Hicks and Henry streets, Brooklyn, and one for the 283d Precinct, Richmond Hill, Borough of Queens.

Appropriations have been obtained by the present administration and work is about to begin on rebuilding the Eighteenth Precinct station house, on West Twentieth street, and on the Fifteenth Precinct station house, on East Fifth street. These houses are too small for the present force, and have also become worn out through years of service.

Appropriation has also been obtained to construct a station house for a new precinct in the Borough of The Bronx, in the vicinity of Simpson and 167th streets, the increase in population in this section having rendered this necessary.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The release of funds already appropriated to this Department under a previous administration has been requested for the erection of a new station house in the vicinity of 125th street and Seventh avenue. No new station house has been erected north of 110th street in Manhattan in over twenty-five years. The population in that section has grown to such an extent that the requisite number of men to furnish the required police protection cannot be quartered in existing houses.

REPAIRS AND SUPPLIES.

The Department owns 120 buildings and leases 29, a total of 149 buildings, which are maintained and repaired by the Bureau of Repairs and Supplies. A force of Department mechanics is maintained for this purpose. Eighteen additional mechanics have been provided for in the Department budget for 1912. With this addition it is believed that most of the work of repairs can be performed by Department mechanics.

There are in the Department 679 horses. Appropriation has been made for the employment of Department horseshoers. These will obviate the necessity of having the horses shod by outside blacksmiths and will result in a large saving to the city.

PATROL WAGON SERVICE.

It is the intention of the Department to introduce a number of motor patrol wagons. Each motor patrol wagon can perform the service of about three of the present horse-drawn vehicles. As these vehicles are in service night and day, a large saving will be made in the salaries of drivers and in the boarding of horses.

SCHOOL CHILDREN.

There are approximately one million children attending school within the City of New York. The Police Department makes every effort to insure their safety while going to and from school. During the past year there have been but few accidents.

SPECIAL PATROLMEN.

The number of special patrolmen on January 1, 1911, was 1,086. The number on December 31, 1911, was 150.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE

NUMERICAL STRENGTH OF THE FORCE.

London, with a population of approximately 7,000,000, has about 21,000 policemen, or about one policeman to every 333 inhabitants.

Paris, with a population of approximately 2,800,000, has about 8,430 policemen, or about one policeman to every 332 inhabitants.

New York City, with a population of over 5,000,000, has 10,208 policemen, including men detailed to plain clothes duty and other special duties, or about one policeman to every 489 inhabitants.

One precinct in The Bronx, which has grown very rapidly in the last few years, has one policeman to about 2,200 inhabitants.

In the newly built-up sections of the city, especially in the vicinity of Flatbush, South Brooklyn, Washington Heights, in Manhattan, and in The Bronx, the population has increased so rapidly within the last few years that the Police Department has been unable to assign for their protection the number of men which it is believed are required to properly guard these districts.

THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE AS AFFECTING THE ENFORCEMENT OF LAW BY THE POLICE.

During the year there were 148 murders, for which 125 persons were arrested, and 7 committed suicide prior to police action. Not one has been executed for any of these murders. Only 13 have been convicted.

Sentences have been suspended and convicted men freed by judges in 611 cases of felony, 11,420 cases of misdemeanor, 1,863 cases of juvenile delinquency, or a total of 13,894 suspended sentences, as shown by table attached hereto.

In one case a young man was arrested three times within eight weeks in the act of burglarizing premises, in the first instance with a revolver in his possession. In the first two cases he was found guilty and paroled. In the third case he was sentenced to the House of Refuge.

One man who was convicted of a most revolting murder, after a lapse of twenty months has not yet been executed.

A man who forcibly entered the apartment occupied by an aged broker and murdered his victim was sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment.

A policeman arrested a man at night who was driving away with a horse and cab which did not belong to him. The policeman was obliged to fire several shots in the air before he could make the fugitive stop. He charged him with grand larceny. The magistrate directed that the charge be changed to one of disorderly conduct and fined the man five dollars.

In one instance a magistrate refused a warrant on the ground that the evidence had been obtained by a policeman who merely saw the act by looking through a window, but was not in the room.

In almost all cases where roulette wheels and other gambling apparatus have been seized in raids, court orders were obtained requiring the return of the property to the gamblers.

SHOWS.

There has recently been inaugurated by several restaurants the custom of furnishing vaudeville shows for their patrons. These performances differ in many instances in no way from those being given at music halls and theatres. It is believed in the interest of public safety that these places should be required to take out licenses and conform to the fire and building laws enacted for the protection of the public.

Very respectfully,

R. WALDO,

Police Commissioner.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE

NOTABLE ARRESTS BY THE DETECTIVE BUREAU.

MURDER OF WILLIAM JACKSON.

Occurred between 9:30 and 10 P. M., July 27, 1911, at Hotel Iroquois, No. 49 West 44th Street. Not discovered until about 8:30 A. M., next day. District Detectives promptly on case searched apartment. Apparently no clue except that afforded by a concealed label on an empty bottle which smelled as though it had contained chloroform. Label bore name of New Jersey druggist and was almost concealed by another label pasted over it. Coroner's autopsy found death caused by strangulation without use of chloroform. In spite of this, bottle and contents investigated and found to have been sold to an unknown woman accompanied by known friend. Contents intended to kill dog. Unknown woman identified and residence in this city located. Woman interrogated imparted information that a tenant in her house had inquired whether chloroform which she had purchased was of sufficient strength to kill a man. Premises watched. At 10:30 P. M., July 28, 1911—within 14 hours after discovery of body—Paul Geidel, tenant in house and bell boy in Hotel Iroquois, was arrested. He was charged with murder. Chloroform bottle identified by woman and by druggist. Jewelry and other property taken from Jackson by Geidel recovered by detectives. Geidel convicted of murder in second degree and sentenced to not less than 20 years' imprisonment.

ARREST OF KIDNAPPER.

Kidnapping of Michele Scimeca, age three years, occurred June 21, 1910. Taken from premises No. 4 Prince Street. The father, Doctor Scimeca, paid $1,700.00 to an unknown man for the return of the boy. This was effected September 19, 1910. On June 24, 1910, detectives assigned to case showed picture of Pietro Pallazpolo to school girl in neighborhood. She identified the picture as that of person last seen with the boy. Search made to locate Pallazpolo without success. Subsequently learned that he had gone to Italy. In August, 1911, it was reported that he had returned to this country and located in Brooklyn. The Williamsburg Bridge entrance, Manhattan end, was made to serve as a screen. At this point, after three weeks of watching, Pallazpolo was apprehended September 18, 1911, as he attempted to cross to Manhattan. He was convicted and sentenced to fifty years' imprisonment.

MURDER OF PATRICK MCBREEN.

Occurred 2:10 A. M., October 4, 1911, at No. 771 Tenth Avenue. The victim, a saloonkeeper, was shot by an unknown man while in his saloon. Assailant with an accomplice had entered the place for the purpose of robbery. Precinct detectives immediately took charge of case. Although McBreen lived for a time, he did not regain consciousness. No information obtained from him. No evidence of assailants obtainable at place of assault. A systematic house to house canvass was instituted in the vicinity. In cellar of premises No. 504 West 53d Street remnants of a memorandum book were found and pasted together;

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

several names and addresses developed, among them that of John Mulraney and John J. Dowling. John Mulraney was known to have a previous criminal record for "Burglary." The search for Mulraney and Dowling resulted in their arrest. Dowling made an affidavit of confession that Mulraney shot McBreen. Mulraney made a corroborative affidavit. Both indicted for murder and awaiting trial. The statements of the prisoners showed that after committing the assault they fled to the roof of premises No. 771 Tenth Avenue and by roofs of adjoining buildings reached No. 504 West 53d Street, where they remained concealed in the cellar until daylight.

ARREST OF BOMB THROWER.

At 4:35 A. M., September 15, 1911, Giovanni Rizzo was arrested while lighting a bomb in hallway of No. 356 East 13th Street. At 12:30 the same morning a bomb was exploded at No. 314 East 12th Street. This is a five-story Italian tenement. Three Italian detectives were immediately assigned. Occupants of tenement were interrogated. Information was received that a discharged employee of one of them, by name Giovanni Rizzo, had been seen leaving the premises shortly after the explosion. It was learned that Rizzo had obtained employment as a milkman with a business competitor of his former employer. Detectives proceeded to locate Rizzo, found him on his milk route and watched him. One detective entered No. 356 East 13th Street immediately after Rizzo, and found him in the act of lighting a bomb. The detective extinguished the fuse. Rizzo attempted to escape. Other detectives captured him. Four hours after first outrage, perpetrator apprehended in act of committing second. Convicted and sentenced to 7 years' imprisonment.

MURDER OF ISAAC S. VOGEL.

Occurred between 5:40 and 6:00 P. M., December 5, 1911, at No. 125 Canal Street. Body discovered 6:45 A. M., December 6, 1911, face and head battered, skull broken. Arrest made about 7:15 A. M., same day. District and precinct detectives assigned. Victim found in cellar. Indications pointed to crime having been committed on premises by some person or persons connected or familiar therewith. Victim traveling jeweler. Motive robbery. Investigation developed that but two persons had key to basement; one superintendent of building, the other colored elevatorman named Joseph F. Roberts. When Roberts came to work, he was interrogated. Answers found unsatisfactory. Clothes were blood-stained. Silver mounted fountain pen in his pocket the property of Vogel. Search made of entire building to locate balance of jewelry taken from Vogel valued at about $3,500.00. This was found. It developed that on the night of December 5, 1911, Roberts showed his landlady a blue bag from which he took a gold bracelet and gold watch with pin attached. These articles of jewelry were found in premises No. 125 Canal Street after Roberts' arrest. They have been identified as the property of the victim. They have also been identified by the landlady as those shown to her by Roberts. A cigarette case, the property of the victim, has also been found among other jewelry on the premises which shows a finger print tallying with that of Roberts. Roberts indicted for murder and awaiting trial.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE

FORGERIES AMOUNTING TO $500,000.00.

Numerous forgeries within the past five years, by which banks in New York City and other large cities have lost approximately $500,000.00, occasioned the arrest of Charles Carlesi, Isadore Weiss and William Schutzberger. Weiss and Schutzberger confessed having committed many of the forgeries reported. Plead guilty and are now awaiting sentence. Carlesi is held in $15,000.00 bail for trial. Carlesi's confederates posed as business men, secured introduction at bank, opened accounts with cash, deposited forged checks certified for large amount, against which draft was made before the forgeries were discovered. Forged checks were skillfully hand made. Reproductions of originals as to paper, tint, and number.

ARREST OF BOMB THROWER.

In May, 1904, there had been three bomb explosions in a house in East Eleventh street. Piccallo Buonobenturo was found lighting a bomb. Upon being arrested, he said that Guiseppi Constabile had given him a bomb and ordered him to explode it. Constabile was arrested, but was subsequently discharged because Buonobenturo would not testify against him, fearing he would be killed if he did so. On September 5th, 1911, Guiseppi Constabile was arrested on Prince street with a bomb in his possession. Following trial, he was convicted and sentenced to seven years' imprisonment.

MURDER OF WILLIAM SWEEZEY.

Occurred about 4:45 P. M., December 11, 1911. He was employed as a driver by the Street Cleaning Department during the recent strike. While working in front of premises No. 239 East 3d Street, he was struck on the head with an 18-lb. coping stone thrown from the roof of house nearby, receiving injuries which caused instant death. Detectives assigned. Person or persons causing death unknown. No person in vicinity could be found willing to give information. Detectives proceeded to find out if any person in the vicinity had formerly been in the employ of the Department of Street Cleaning. They found that Joseph Wince, No. 241 East 3d Street, had been employed in that Department and was on strike. At 6 P. M. Wince was found in bed. He denied all knowledge of the crime, but was interrogated and subsequently admitted that one George Henrich, No. 46-48 Avenue "B," had been with him on the roof and had thrown the coping stone which caused the death of Swezey. Henrich, arrested the same night, stated that both he and Wince hurled stones from the roof. Coroner committed both, awaiting action of the Grand Jury.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

MURDER OF FAMILY OF ADOLPH LE FARO.

Occurred at No. 739 Park Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., November 13, 1911. Le Faro, upon returning to his residence about noon, found his wife, daughter and mother-in-law murdered upon the floor of the bedroom. All three had been shot. Examination of the apartment by detectives indicated motive vengeance. No evidence of robbery. Le Faro interrogated. Imparted information that Matthew Del Omo, his brother-in-law, had some time previously made threats against Mrs. Le Faro, on account of division of insurance money paid on account of their father's death. Del Omo had been arrested on September 12, 1911, charged with assault upon Mr. Le Faro; upon this he was discharged—the complaint having been withdrawn. Residence of suspect kept under surveillance. At 10 P. M., he attempted to enter and was immediately placed under arrest. His clothing was found to be blood stained. Upon closer examination it appeared that he had tried to eradicate the stains with kerosene oil. Upon being interrogated, he admitted having committed the crime. Revolver used was recovered in alleyway on Lorimer Street, Brooklyn. Del Omo has been indicted on three counts of homicide and is now awaiting trial.

MURDER OF BARTOLDI CARDINALE.

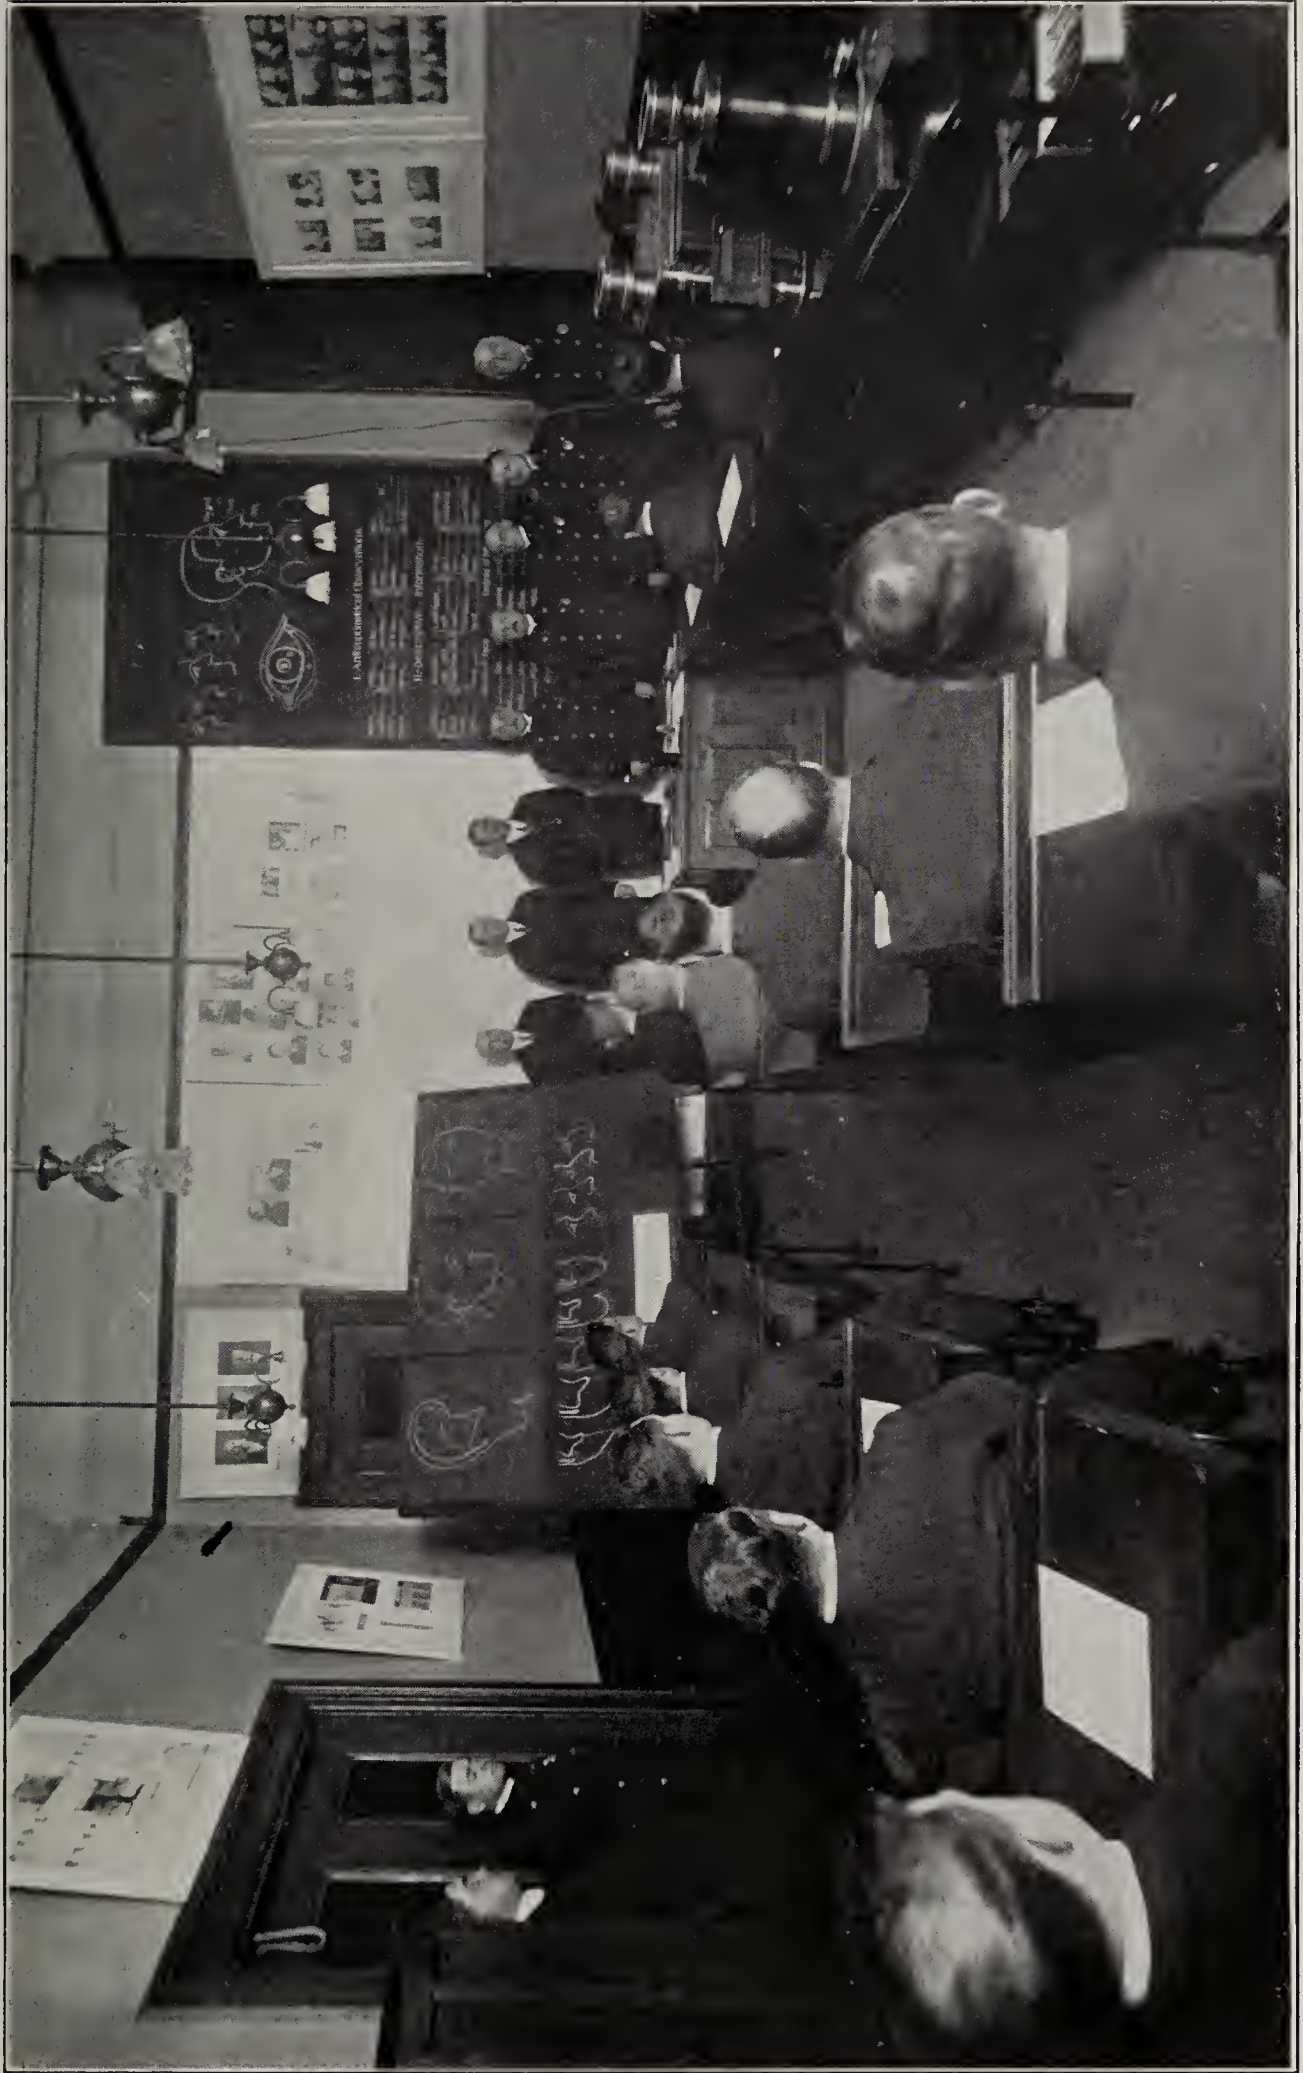

Was shot and killed while sitting at open window of residence on second floor of No. 344 East 21st Street. Weapons—shot guns. Detectives immediately ascertained from course of shot wounds that person or persons responsible for Cardinale's death had fired from window diagonally opposite Cardinale's window. A systematic search made of this building. An empty flat located, which had been rented about a week previously by an unknown man. Two sawed-off, double barreled shot guns found in flat. Paper scraps and cigar stubs in rooms directed suspicion towards Italian or Italians. From the damage done window sash, detectives concluded that shot had been fired from this flat. No clue as to occupant or occupants. A watch was set upon persons passing in the street. One of these interrogated gave the detectives a description of a man seen walking up and down the street a day or two before the murder. Description given sufficient to fasten suspicion upon Pellegrino Scaglia. Information obtained of feud between Cardinale and Scaglia families. Detectives interrogated Vincenzo Cardinale, brother of victim, residing at No. 346 East 21st Street. Vincenzo had seen Pellegrino Scaglia in front of premises No. 343 East 21st Street, leaving there immediately after the shooting. Scaglia's location unknown but believed to be residing in St. Louis, Mo. Communicated with the Police Department (St. Louis), furnishing Scaglia's description and address. Scaglia apprehended in St. Louis August 4, 1911, extradited and brought to this city. Scaglia was indicted for murder in the first degree. Held awaiting trial.

ARREST OF BOMB THROWER.

The latter part of 1908 Angelo Cuchiara and two companions were arrested in Scranton, Pa., charged with murder. They were acquitted on account of insufficient evidence. The Detective Bureau ascertained from Ciro Bivona, 502 First avenue, that Cuchiara and his two companions had come to this city. The two companions subsequently visited Bivona's grocery store and killed him. All three of the Italians were arrested and charged with homicide. This was in 1909. The two companions were found guilty and given sentences of fifteen and twenty years, respectively. Cuchiara was acquitted on account of insufficient evidence. On October 3d, 1911, Italian detectives arrested Angelo Cuchiara for having two bombs in his possession. This man had been under surveillance for a considerable time. He was known as the leader of the "Middle Section" gang, in the neighborhood of Thirty-ninth street and Second avenue. He was convicted and sentenced to six years and six months' imprisonment and one thousand dollars fine.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE Operation of the Stationary Post System.

In effect from 11 p.m to 7 a.m.

One-half of the entire strength of the Police Patrol Force is on duty in the streets between the hours of 11 P. M. and 7 A. M. A certain portion of this quota is assigned to stationary posts. Where the stationary post system has been put in operation the general plan has been to space the posts at intervals of four blocks along the avenues, as is shown on the accompanying map of Manhattan Island.

The patrolman on stationary post takes his position at the intersection of designated streets. He is permitted to move about within a restricted area, but he is not permitted to cross the curb line or connecting walks at the street intersections except in answer to a call for police assistance. The effect of this is to have him remain in the middle of the street where he can easily be seen and readily summoned and where he, himself, can see, with the least difficulty, whatever may occur in the streets surrounding his post.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The remaining portion of the night force is required to patrol over designated posts. These are so laid out that each includes a stationary post. After the expiration of a certain length of time the patrolman on patrol post comes to the stationary post and takes the place of the patrolman who has been doing duty at that point. The patrolman on stationary post then proceeds to make his rounds on patrol post. The change is made every hour and may be made as often as is warranted by weather conditions.

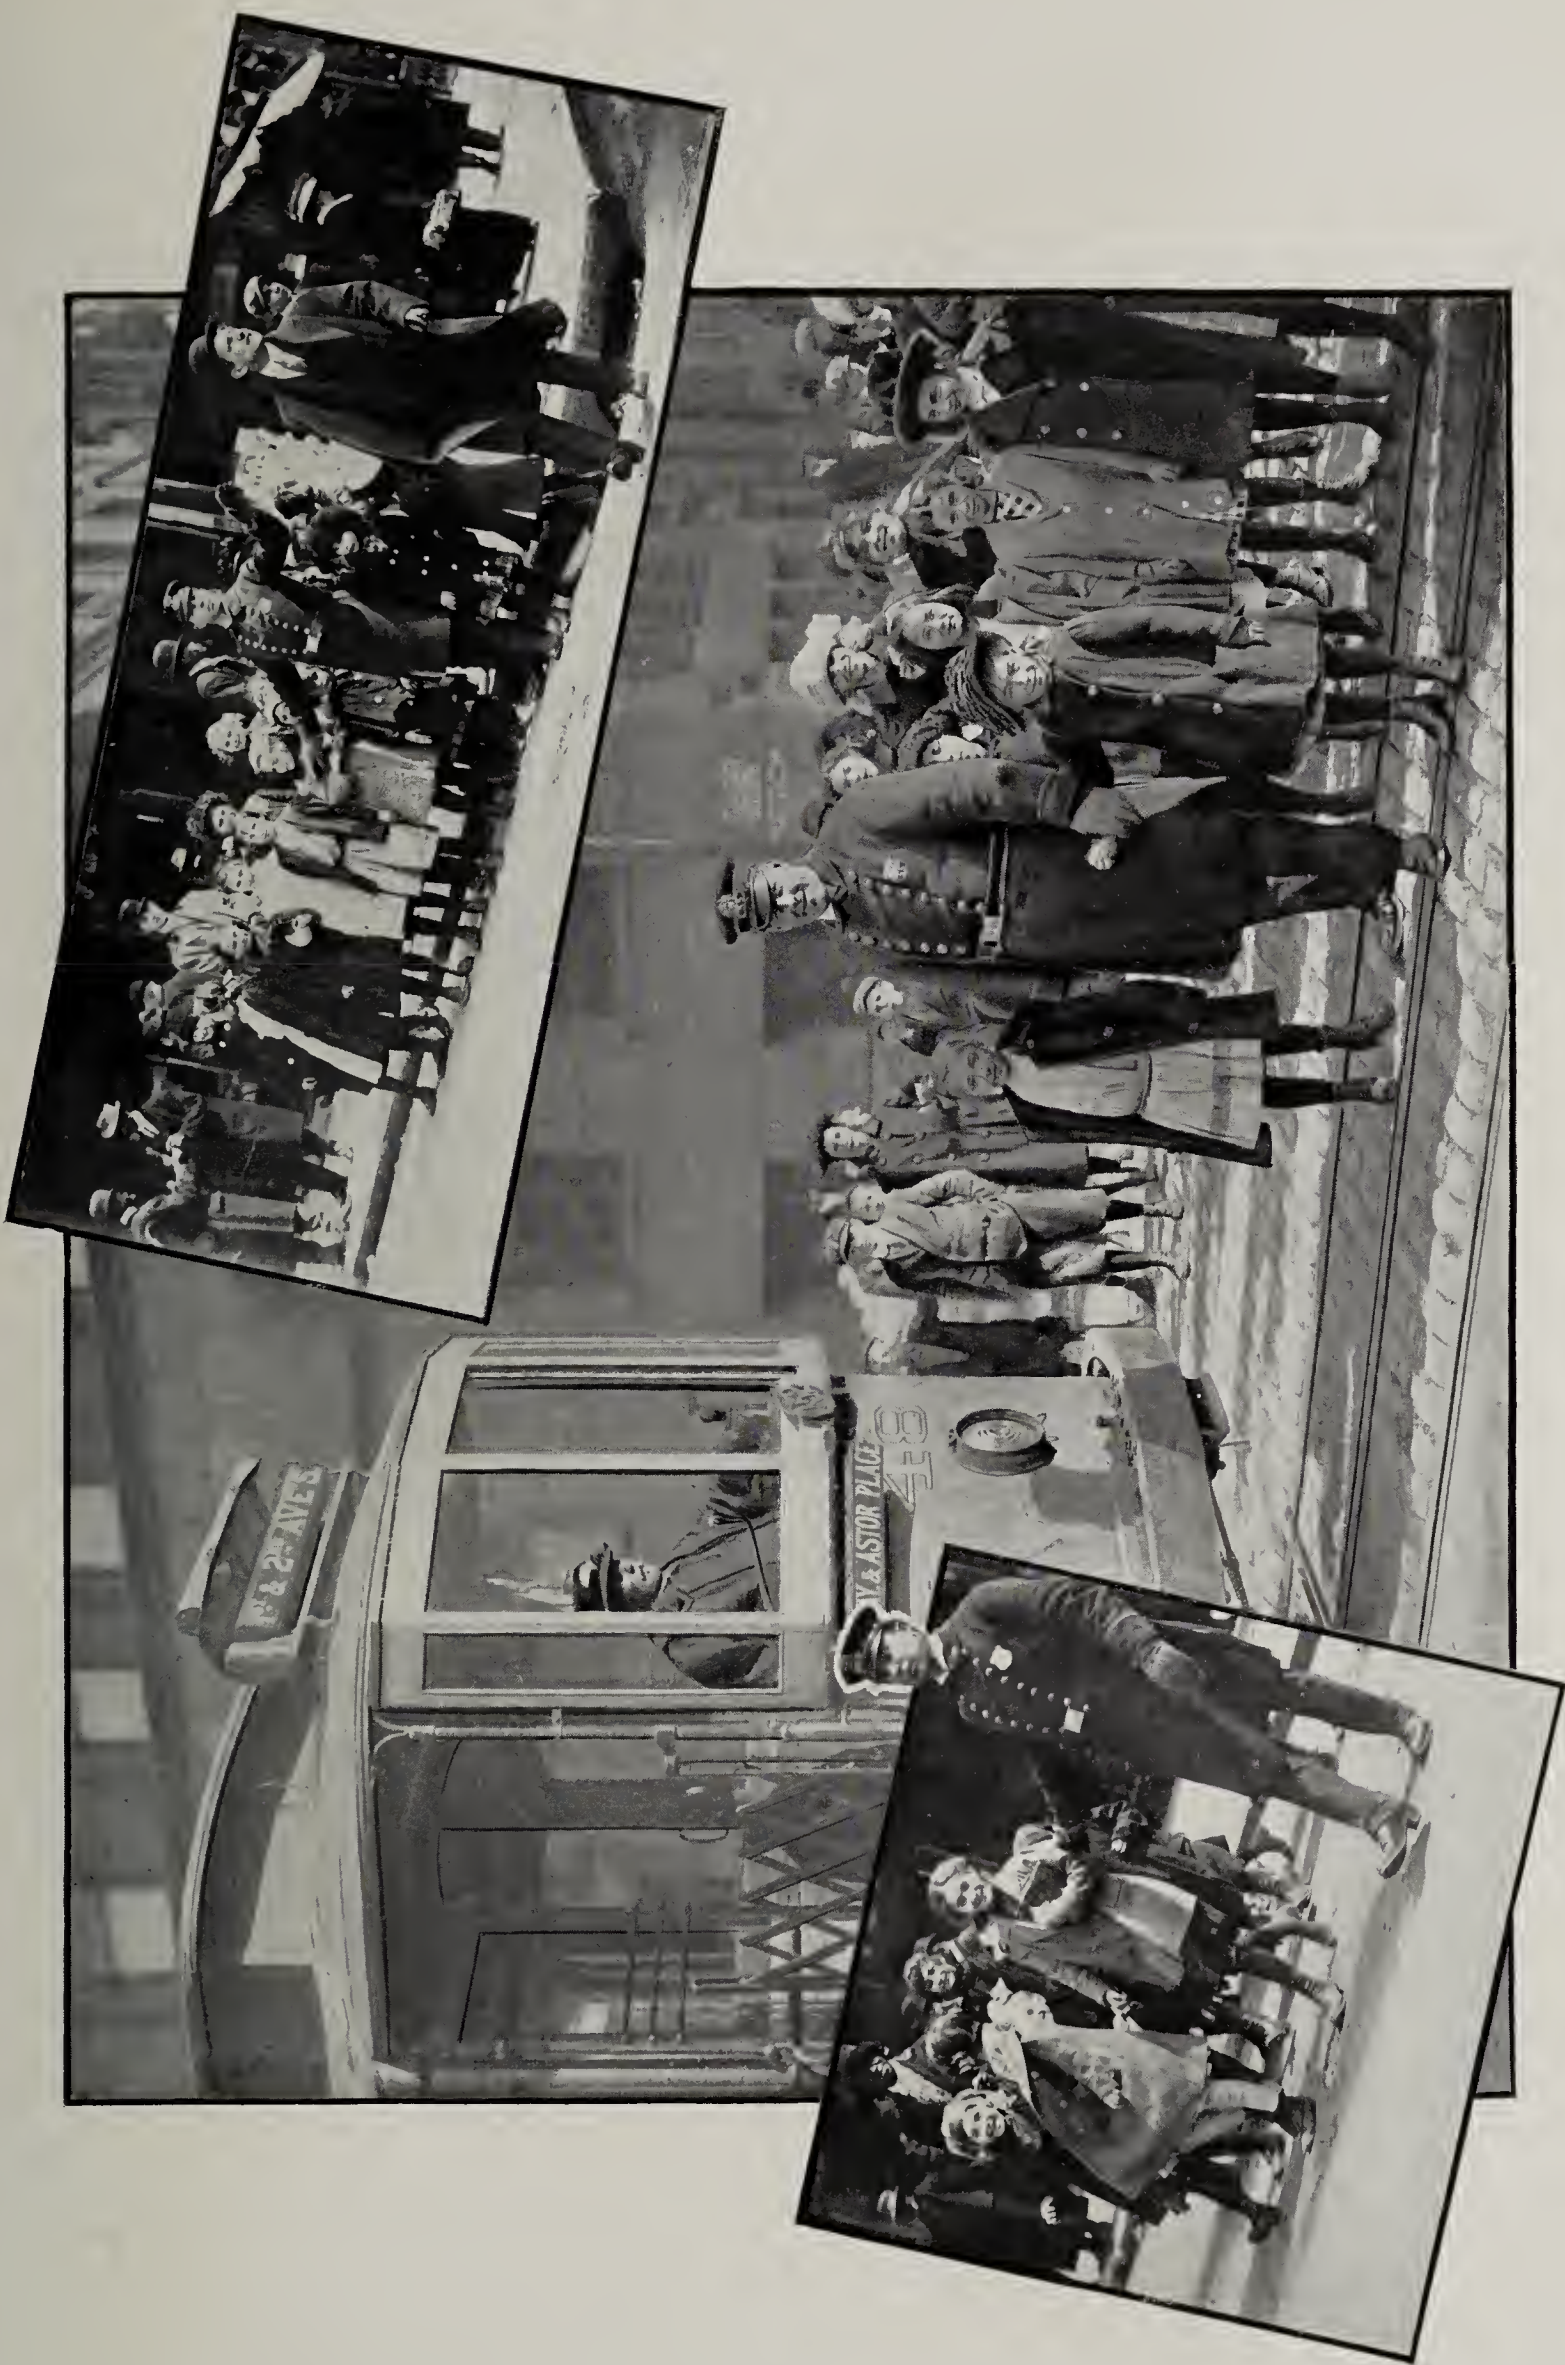

It has been demonstrated that this plan of stationary posts affords the most efficient means of guarding the City during the night hours when it is difficult to see and necessary that police attention, when needed, should be promptly furnished. It is now an easy matter to obtain the services of a policeman. The citizen knows where to turn for instant attention to his summons for police assistance.

When the patrolman on stationary post is called away, his place is taken by the man on patrol post.

The "fixed post" system was first put in operation on June 23, 1911.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

During the year 10,369 requisitions were acted upon, as against 12,350 during 1910. A simplification of systems during the last six months of 1911 permitted a decrease in the number of requisitions with increased efficiency in the issue of supplies.

DIVISION OF HORSES AND EQUIPMENTS.

This division is charged with the care and maintenance of horses, vehicles (exclusive of automobiles) and horse equipment, with stable management and the instruction of men and horses in mounted police duty.

STABLES.

On December 31, 1910, there were 47 Department stables and 43 Boarding stables in use, as against 49 Department stables and 36 Boarding stables on December 31, 1911.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE

The price per horse purchased under contract (30 horses) awarded November 6th, 1911, was $357.50, as against $372.50 under contract (20 horses) awarded April 24th, 1911.

HORSES.

There are 679 horses attached to this Department, of which 172 are used for patrol wagon service, 459 for saddle service, 40 for carriage service and 8 for miscellaneous purposes.

During the year contracts have been awarded for the purchase of 50 horses. The average cost is $363.50.

These horses are to be used for mounted service. They are selected under specifications for such service and are required to remain on probation for one month before final acceptance, or for such additional time as may be necessary to bring out their full qualifications. If unsatisfactory, they are returned to the contractor to be replaced with other horses.

The training stable for horses was destroyed by fire during the year. The farm upon which the stable was located has been given up by this Department and turned back to the Sinking Fund. The training stable of the Department is now located at the stable of Traffic Precinct D, No. 118 Waverly pl., Brooklyn. Here all horses are brought and trained to the police service. They are schooled in the gaits and made familiar with the sights and sounds of the road, in order that they may be at all times tractable and intelligent. Special instruction is given in the catching of runaways and in keeping police lines.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT SIGNAL BOX SYSTEM.

SIGNAL BOX.

Police Department Signal Boxes are attached to buildings at many points throughout the Greater City. They are intended solely for the use of police officers on patrol duty in rendering prompt information to their precinct stations. Each member of the force is provided with a signal box key, which he is required to carry with him at all times.

The signal box is examined during each tour of patrol and is frequently visited for the purpose of rendering reports to and receiving instructions from the lieutenant on desk duty in the station house. The signal box can be used by the station house to attract the attention of the patrolman on post and summon him to the telephone.

In accident cases the patrol telephone system affords a prompt method of summoning medical assistance and sending notification through the precinct station-house to send an ambulance from the nearest hospital.

When large fires occur, one of these stations, conveniently located, is frequently used as an emergency telephone depot. The necessary operators and linemen are dispatched from the Telegraph Bureau, and within a very short time a general telephone service is installed.

It was formerly the custom for Patrolmen to leave their posts and walk to the station-house to report trivial happenings in person. This practice has been discontinued. All minor reports are telephoned, and special instructions, if necessary, issued to the Patrolman on post by the Desk Lieutenant.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE

TELEGRAPH BUREAU.

The Telegraph Bureau force consists of sixty-four members of the uniformed force and seven civilian employees. During 1911 the total number of telephone messages received and recorded was 1,154,630, a slight decrease over 1910. In addition there were 2,625,000 (estimated) telephone communications through the Department switchboards, requiring no official record.

The total mileage of wires on police lines is 1,666.52; the mileage of conductors (leased) in operation on Police Department Signal Stations, 847.75. The total mileage of Police Department wires in operation for all purposes in the entire city is 2,531.77. This is an increase of 196.17 miles over 1910.

Reduction in Expenses of the Telegraph Bureau.

The discontinuance of switchboards, the centralization of telephone work, the elimination of unnecessary duplication of work, and the adoption of the new filing system for messages, enabled the Police Commissioner to reduce the Operating and Construction Forces without impairing the efficiency of the service. The reductions were as follows:

OPERATIONS OF THE BOILER SQUAD.

The Steam-Boiler and Inspection Bureau is empowered by law to inspect and subject all steam-boilers carrying over ten pounds of steam to the square inch to a hydrostatic test once a year, and to examine and qualify engineers and firemen to operate them.

The force of the Bureau consists of ten members of the uniformed force, three deputy clerks and one stenographer, two citizen boiler inspectors and four citizen drivers, under command of a Captain.

Two members of the uniformed force, who are practical engineers, are assigned to examine applicants for engineers' and firemen's certificates and to hear and determine charges preferred against engineers and firemen for neglect of duty. There are eight boiler inspectors, six are members of the uniformed force and two are citizens.

DEPARTMENT MEDAL.

The records of the Department from 1871 to 1883 show reference to various medals, which are mentioned as those of "A Medal," "A Silver Medal," "A Medal of Honor," etc. September 22, 1883, "The Medal of Honor of the Department" was awarded to Captain John Saunders, 23d Precinct. Following this there is mention of several similar awards. On April 20, 1888, the Board of Police Commissioners ordered the purchase of a die from which bronze medals were to be cast, for award in cases of Honorable Mention. This is the bronze medal in use at present. On May 18, 1888, the Board directed a distribution of these medals to all members of the Department who, up to that time, had received Honorable Mention. After this distribution the first definite award of the medal was made January 15, 1889. Since then the medal has been awarded specifically each year to the member of the force who was considered to have performed the highest act of heroism in the performance of his duty.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE

THE THREE PLATOON SYSTEM.

The patrol force is divided into Three Platoons.

The First Platoon, composed of one-quarter of the patrol force, performs duty from 7 A. M. to 3 P. M.; the Second Platoon, composed of one-quarter of the patrol force, performs duty from 3 P. M. to 11 P. M.; the Third Platoon, composed of one-half of the patrol force, performs duty from 11 P. M. to 7 A. M. daily.

The patrol force is further divided as equally as possible into twelve squads.

The men remain permanently on the Squads to which they are assigned.

Tours of Patrol and Reserve for the several Squads are prescribed in the Duty Chart.

These provisions do not apply to the following precincts: 33d Precinct (Central Park), 173d Precinct (Prospect Park), Bridge, Traffic and Harbor Precincts.

This system went into effect on June 12, 1911.

R. WALDO,
Police Commissioner,

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

THE SCHOOL FOR RECRUITS.

Recruits of the grade of Patrolman are appointed on probation from lists established by the Municipal Civil Service Commission. The recruits are taught the duties of their office in the Police School for Recruits. In accordance with the law, they are held on probation for a period of six months, during which time their fitness is determined. One month is spent in the school and the remaining five months are devoted to acquiring a practical knowledge of police work on the streets.

The curriculum of the school includes a study of the following subjects:

1. The powers of a policeman and the laws defining such powers.
2. The duties of a policeman.
3. The rules and regulations of the Department.
4. The Penal Law, State of New York.
5. The Code of Criminal Procedure, State of New York.
6. Inferior Courts Law.
7. Code of Ordinances, City of New York.
8. General Laws.
9. Instruction in Drill.
10. Instruction in First Aid to the Injured.
11. Control of a Prisoner.
12. Practice in the use and care of the pistol and other police equipment.

The school is under the immediate supervision of a Deputy Commissioner and is in direct charge of a Captain of Police, who is assisted in his duties by two Lieutenants, acting as Instructors, and one Patrolman, who instructs the recruits in the use and care of the pistol and in the methods of controlling prisoners with the employment of the least amount of force.

Special instruction is given in subjects of a practical value, such as:

1. The correct police action in accident and in homicide cases.
2. The taking of finger prints with an explanation of their value in criminal prosecutions.
3. Lectures on First Aid to the Injured, which are delivered to each class by the Chief Surgeon of the Department.

The drill instruction is as prescribed in the United States Infantry Drill Regulations up to and including Company Drill. Setting up exercises are a part of this instruction.

After the probationary patrolman leaves the school he is still subject to weekly reviews and examinations, which are held for the purpose of testing his application and progress.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIVISION OF TERRITORY AND COMMAND.

The city is divided territorially into fifteen inspection districts. Each district and the police force assigned thereto constitutes the command of an Inspector. The Chief Inspector is the ranking police officer of the Department.

Each district is divided into precincts. The territory within each, and the force assigned thereto, constitutes the command of a Captain. For the purpose of exercising proper supervision of patrol duty, precincts are being divided into sections.

The Traffic, Harbor and Bridge Precincts are grouped, for administrative purposes, into an additional inspection district.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE HISTORY OF THE DEPARTMENT.

On February 2, 1653, the Charter provided for the election of an official, the Schout, whose duty it was to personally perambulate the streets and observe if there were any infractions of the laws or ordinances. This was followed on April 29, 1654, by the establishment of the Rattle Watch, composed of from four to six men, who were paid 24 stivers per night.

On October 26, 1700, the Mayor was authorized to appoint a Constable Watch, consisting of a constable and twelve able men.

The first watch house was built at the corner of Wall and Broad streets on July 9, 1731. This house cost sixty pounds.

On March 2, 1798, an Act was passed establishing a police force in the City, the office being located in the City Hall.

In 1803, Commandants were designated as Captains of the Night Watch. There were 140 Privates, distributed throughout the First, Second and Third Districts, with two Captains assigned to each District.

In 1830, Watchmen wore leather hats, and carried 33-inch clubs, and were paid 87½ cents a night. The population of the City then was 202,589.

The first attempt to form a Detective Squad was made in April, 1836, when a law was passed directing the appointment of 192 additional men, to be designated as Roundsmen. They were not required to wear any dress that would distinguish them from other citizens.

The population of the City in 1843 was 350,000, and the City was divided into six Police Districts, the force being about 1,000 men. The Watch Districts included that portion of the City lying south of an irregular line running from the East River at 28th street to the Hudson River at 40th street, via 30th and 40th streets.

By 1844 the population had reached 400,000, and the City had a Chief of Police.

In 1857 the Metropolitan District was established, consisting of the counties of New York, Kings, Westchester and Richmond, and the Board of Police was composed of the Mayors of the cities of New York and Brooklyn, and five Commissioners.

In 1858 the City had a population of 820,000, the Police Headquarters being at the corner of Broome and Elm streets, and the force numbering 1,430.

The arrests for the year ending October 31, 1858, numbered 61,455 in New York, and 13,918 in Brooklyn.

In 1860, the Metropolitan District included Newtown, Flushing and Jamaica.

The Headquarters of the Police Department were established at No. 300 Mulberry street in 1863, at a cost of $230,860. The population was then 1,400,000, the Police Force numbered 1,856, and the City was divided into precincts, comprising the territory lying south of about 152d street.

During the year 1864, the Police Life Insurance Fund was established

POLICE DOG ON PATROL.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

On April 5, 1870, the new charter reorganized the Police Department, with a Board of Police, consisting of four Commissioners, who appointed a Superintendent of Police.

Under the Laws of 1872, the Board of Police was charged with the duty of cleaning the streets.

The population of the City in 1873 was 1,000,000, which was a reduction caused by the fact that the population of Queens County was not included at this time.

A separate Street Cleaning Department was established under the Laws of 1881, the Bureau of Street Cleaning being consequently separated from the Police Department.

The Board of Police was authorized on May 17, 1882, to establish a Bureau which should be called the Central Office Bureau of Detectives, not to exceed in number forty Detectives.

The Force was placed under Civil Service regulation, under Chapter 354 of the Laws of 1883.

The Force in December, 1887, numbered 3,232.

Matrons were added to the Force in 1888.

Under the Laws of 1895, the position of Chief Surgeon was created.

During all these years there were many changes in grades, numerical strength of the Force and salaries, until January 1, 1898, when, under the Greater New York Charter, the various police forces theretofore existing in the Counties of New York, Kings and Richmond, and within the boundaries of the new County of Queens, were consolidated under one bi-partisan Board of Police Commissioners, consisting of four members.

Under Chapter 674 of the Laws of 1899, certain station-houses were designated for the confinement of female prisoners.

The Laws of 1901 terminated the Board of Police and invested the powers in a single Police Commissioner at a salary of $7,500 per annum, the Police Commissioner to appoint two Deputy Police Commissioners at a salary of $4,000 per annum each. The office of Chief of Police was abolished, and the Bureau of Elections, as a part of the Police Department, was also abolished.

The Laws of 1907 abolished the rank of Deputy Chief of Police, the former Deputy taking the rank of Inspector. Also the title of Sergeant was changed to Lieutenant, and Roundsman to Sergeant. The rank of Inspector of Police was abolished and the Police Commissioner given authority to detail nineteen Captains to act as Inspectors, to continue as such, revocable at his pleasure. The Laws of 1907 also provided for the appointment of four Deputy Police Commissioners, and on May 16, 1910, their salaries were fixed at $6,000 per annum.
